The Event

The AAMI Classic ticks all the boxes when it comes to corporate entertainment.

This intimate, boutique tournament, now in its 24th year, has become the traditional Australian Open preparation for 8 of the world's top players. The "promotion/relegation" format allows each to play 3 matches at Kooyong, the spiritual home of Australian tennis, over the 4 day period (Jan. 11-14) while tuning up for the first Grand Slam of the year.

Australia's own Lleyton Hewitt, in winning the 2011 event, joined an elite list of past champions, including Roger Federer, Andy Roddick, Andre Agassi, Pete Sampras and Michael Chang.

A popular inclusion in the past two years has been exhibition matches by some of the great Legends of the game interspersed throughout the event. Showcasing world-class present and former players appeals to both small and large companies choosing to entertain their most valued clients in a sporting environment.

Prestigious Melbourne caterer, Rowland Major Events, completes the corporate experience, offering lunch either served to the suite or in the well-appointed marquee adjoining the stadium.

Courtside and Stadium Suites accommodate 8 people per day and can be reserved on a 1-4 day basis. Day sessions only are applicable, with play beginning at 11.00 am Wednesday to Friday (Jan. 11-13) and 1.00 pm on Saturday (Jan. 14). All corporate supporters can utilise the facilities of the newly renovated Kooyong clubhouse during the event.

The Seven Network continues to provide a live national (approx. 13 hour) telecast of the event and IEC in Sport distributes to approx. 45 international outlets.

Join us at Kooyong next January and discover why so many businesses include the AAMI Classic on their annual events calendar.
